

Utah County Employee of the Month - December 2012
Randy Carrasco - Jail Property Clerk
Sheriffs Office

We would like to nominate Randy Carrasco for the employee of the month award.

Randy has worked at the Utah County Jail as a property clerk for 5 years. Randy currently lives in Payson, Utah and has lived there most of his life. Randy is a great all around coworker and friend. We feel honored to nominate him for the following reasons:

Commitment

You will not find an employee more committed to all aspects of his job. Randy is always on time and ready to work the moment he arrives. When needed, Randy happily works for others when they are on vacation or ill. Randy is trustworthy, honest and humble. He is easy to supervise and always follows policy. Recently, Randy found that his car had been damaged in the parking lot at work. Nobody would have questioned him if he would have spent time during his shift trying to figure out who had damaged his vehicle and how to get it fixed. Instead, he was adamant about waiting until one of his days off and would figure it out on his own time.

Example

Randy exemplifies integrity, honesty and humility. He positively contributes to the morale on the crew. Randy never speaks negatively about anyone. He listens intently and will always stop what he is doing if you need help. He doesn't complain. He works when he isn't feeling well. And he is willing and ready to teach those around him to make our working environment more efficient. Randy takes the little things seriously as well. He performs his duties so thoroughly that we never have to question what happened or where something is.

Service Oriented

In booking, the weekdays can be so busy that often the Deputies aren't able to take a break for lunch. Each and every day Randy will figure out who needs to eat. He will take orders from sometimes 10 or 12 employees, gather money, and get lunch for everyone. He does this without being asked and he knows that noone expects this of him. He does it because he knows it helps. There are times when Randy is the only property clerk available and has several different tasks to complete. Whenever we need his help. He immediately drops what he is doing to assist in whatever way he can.

Professionalism

Randy is always professional. He never seems burdened with personal issues. Randy is responsible for answering requests from the inmates. Some of the requests he reads are obnoxious, rude and insulting. Randy responds with courtesy and professionalism regardless of the situation. Randy is always proactive. Every Sunday Randy completes request forms from immigration inmates in a timely manner. This requires Randy to get the property from a separate storage room. Then he assists the immigration inmates in getting the property they need. Randy will patiently wait until a convenient time that works for our schedule, not necessarily his to accomplish this task. In booking, we all rely on each other to get the job done. We can always count on Randy to do his part and more, making our jobs safer and less stressful.

We are grateful to work with such a great coworker and friend. We feel that Randy is very deserving of this award.
