2020 ANNUAL REPORT

Dear Colleagues,

In accordance with Utah Code Section 17C-1-603(1)(a) we are happy to provide the annual report of the Redevelopment Agency of Provo City Corporation.

Since it's inception in 1972, the Redevelopment Agency of Provo City has sought to build community and enhance property values while implementing the City's development plans. Provo is currently experiencing a period of exciting growth and the Redevelopment Agency seeks to foster and encourage that growth in ways that are sustainable for years to come. This year has been challenging due to the many impacts COVID-19 with its accompanying business shutdowns.

Following are narratives on each of our Community Development Areas (CDAs) accompanied by property valuations and historical data. Growth is trending upward in most areas with only a slight decline in one of the CDA's. The most impressive growth this past year is in the Mountain Vista CDA. The Redevelopment agency continues to look for new opportunities to work with developers and businesses to enhance our business districts. Commercial Façade work has expanded in the South Downtown CDA. The Duncan Aviation ramp has been completed and the company is increasing its hiring. The Redevelopment Agency is also creating new project areas in the city to assist with the growth we are experiencing.

We appreciate our partners, the local taxing agencies: Provo City, Provo City School District, Utah County, and Central Utah Water Conservancy District. Their agreements with us help make possible positive changes and growth by providing tax increment financing in our project areas.

Thank You,

David Walter

Redevelopment Director

Mountain Vista now hosts several businesses. Most recently construction on a 102,000 square foot building was completed and ready to house two new businesses creating a combined 500 new jobs. The first 250,000 square foot phase of an eventual 1,000,000 square foot manufacturing facility is now finish.

The Redevelopment Agency has tax increment agreements in this area with: Provo City, Provo City School District, Utah County, Central Utah Water Conservancy District. The RDA tax increment for 2019 is 20% decreasing to 10% in 2020.

South Downtown CDA

Established: 2014

Sunset Year: 2034

This area is comprised of 242 acres of both commercial and residential properties. There is currently no increment being collected in this area.

The goals when establishing this area were to improve business and employment opportunities as well as housing opportunities. While there are no Redevelopment projects currently underway in this area, there is plenty of private investment happening.

The Mill Race at Provo Station is the redevelopment of an entire block in the project area. This project will include office, meeting space, a condominium tower and multi-family residential with some structured parking. The Agency will sell property to the developer as well as activate the portion of the project area the block is on and contribute that amount to the development. This project has experienced delays to due to increased reluctance for financing entities to lend funds due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Another developing area of note in this CDA is the Startup building, which provides meeting space for a weekly gathering of Provo entrepreneurs to share ideas and seek investors.

Recently, the RDA changed it's Commercial Façade program to include more of the downtown master plan area. As more businesses become aware and take advantage of this program,, we will see new vitality to the South Downtown area with improved facades.
